

AES TV Viewing Experience: All About Options!

The AES TV service is built upon a best in class video head end and distribution architecture. This means you will get the absolute best picture quality available from the content programmer! AES subscribers have a choice on how they can receive this high quality service. From the casual TV viewer to the most sophisticated TV connoisseur, AES has an option that will fit your TV tastes.

No Set-Top Box (STB)

AES TV subscribers can watch any of the Classic 30 channels without a STB! Just plug in the RF/coax cable! If you have a HD TV with a digital tuner, you can receive and view all of these SD and HD channels in full digital clarity. If you have an older style analog TV, you will have access to all the channels in analog SD.

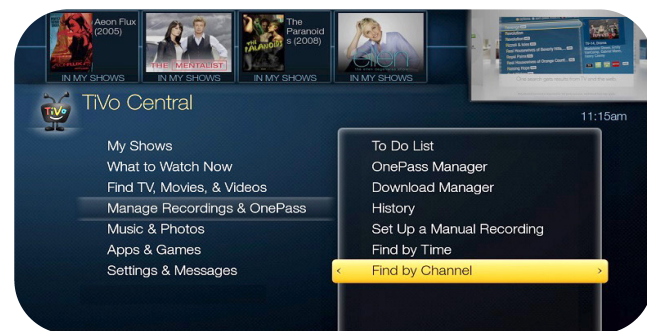

Basic Set-Top Box

Customers subscribing to any of the digital tiers (Essential 200, Premier 270, Business 90) will need a STB to decrypt the programmers' content. The AES Basic STB will support Standard Definition (SD) and High Definition (HD) content, has a HDMI output, and provides an easy to use electronic program guide.

- For remote control codes, see www.urcsupport.com

TiVo® Multi-Room Digital Video Recorder (DVR)

Customers subscribing to any of the digital tiers will need a set-top box to decrypt programming content. The TiVo DVR and Multi-Room STB support Standard and High Definition content, have component & HDMI outputs and the award-winning TiVo electronic program guide.

- This advanced 6 stream DVR can be paired with the TiVo Multi-Room STB to share recorded content to other TVs. This premium DVR device requires an AES Internet connection to link your TiVo Multi-Room DVR and STBs to the TiVo online service.
- Record up to 150 hours of HD and 1300 hours of SD content. Buy the optional 1TB DVR Expander for up to 300 hours of HD and 2600 hours of SD content.
- For more information about the TiVo DVR, TiVo Remote and other advanced features, please visit TiVo Support at <http://support.tivo.com>

Your Community Network.

If you're not using a set-top box (STB), use this channel listing.

RF Connection Programming Channels

AES TV subscribers can watch any of the Classic 30 channels without a Set-Top Box! Just plug in the RF/coax cable to your TV.

If you have a TV with an analog tuner, tune to the channels listed under the ANALOG column below. If you have a TV with a digital tuner, select the SD or HD channel you desire under the DIGITAL listing below.
